Sunday School and Worship

Please observe "social distancing" while in the building and everyone should wear a mask (don't worry, God will still know who you are 😊). Until further notice this will be our procedure. Sorry, but there will be no nursery at this time.

Bible Readers in 2020

Hopefully you are using some of the "down" time, which we are all enduring because of the pandemic, to read and study the scriptures. What a great way to turn idle time into a life-changing event.

A Thought

In Jesus' day they didn't have windows with glass like we are used to – if they had, he might have used them in an analogy similar to the ones he used about our "lights." (con't)

Consider windows we have all experienced: the best are so clear that they are almost invisible, but ... some are cracked and broken, some are dirty and smudged, in the winter they can be frosted over, rain can obscure our vision, the glass in some windows is uneven or in fancy patterns, sometimes the glass is partially or completely reflecting, the glass may be colored, and sometimes a shade may be pulled down or a blind closed.

Perhaps we can liken our lives to the glass in a window in that we should be letting God shine through us so that others can know Him. Unfortunately, some of our "windows" are dirty and smudged due to sin; some are frosted by our obsession with all our daily activities; maybe our past has left us "broken"; the troubles in our lives can be like rain hindering God's light from clearly shining through; our lack of knowledge of scripture maybe be like glass that is so uneven that God's image is warped out of shape; reflecting glass might represent our ego and self-interest; colored glass our biases; and then, sometimes, we just don't care about whether or not others can see God through us and we have pulled down the shade. Maybe it's time that we ask God fix, repair, and clean our "windows" so others can see the Son-shine bright and beautiful!
